

Privacy Statement

The security of our donors' personal information is very important to us. We have established a privacy policy and have adopted procedures to keep personal information that is under our control as secure as possible.

This includes personal information relating to our current and potential donors as well as our volunteers and staff.

Our policy is to collect personal information with the knowledge and consent of the personal whenever reasonably possible. Further, we strive to identify the purposes for which the collection of personal information is collected by us. Usually we collect and use personal information to accept and process donations, respond to inquiries regarding our donor programs, fundraising events and other matters of interest to our membership and the community. We also use this information for the preparation and issuance of tax receipts.

We also like to recognize our donors who wish to be recognized publicly for their donations.

We do not give our donor lists to other organizations nor do we sell them. We may hire or enlist the volunteer services of third parties who assist us with our fundraising activities. These third parties may receive your personal information, however, we take all reasonable steps to ensure these third parties are under appropriate confidentiality arrangements.

Access by you to review your personal information at any time may be requested by contacting our Privacy Officer who has been designated to deal with any questions or complaints about our privacy policies and practices. You may contact:

Sandra Hubenig
Phone: 766-2300
Fax: 766-2588
Email: sandra.hubenig@rqhealth.ca

Should you wish to opt out of receiving communications by RPCI or if you choose to only receive specific communications, you may contact our Privacy Officer. Should your information change you may also convey this information to our Privacy Officer.